

A MURDERER SLAIN

The Redskins Who Killed the Hulls Shot by Indian Police.

EXCITEMENT AMONG THE WHITES.

Who Fear An Outbreak—A Father Sacrifices His Boy as a Shield for Himself— The McCarthys Kill a Chief.

EARLY ROCK, Idaho, April 14.—[Special telegram to THE HERALD.]—There is considerable trouble on the Indian reservation and considerable excitement among the people for fear of their lives. Monday, while Robert Hull, living north of this place, and his nephew William Hull, of Cache valley, were returning from Utah, they camped on the Little Blackfoot river and were preparing their meal, when a dreadful devil who had been filling up on fire water, approached the wagon with a Winchester rifle in hand, took aim and fired, missing the nephew through the back and heart. He then fired at Robert as he looked up, piercing him through the head, and both men dropped over dead, each in the other's arms. The Indian gave a whoop, flourished his rifle and tomahawk over his head and disappeared. Fisher, the Indian agent at Fort Hall agency, dispatched the Indian police with instructions to bring the Indian in either dead or alive, and they returned with a dead Indian. He resisted the policemen and, true to the instructions, they pierced his body with leaden missiles. He grabbed the end of the gun, but at that instant another shot was fired and his hand was torn to pieces and he dropped over dead. They reported to Fisher and he instructed them also to get out the report that the Indian committed suicide, but the remaining Indians found out that he was murdered and are becoming very warlike, and people are coming in for fear the Indians will murder all the white people.

This morning the stage was fired upon by Indians and this afternoon a posse of cavalry men started for the agency, all heavily armed, it being feared that General Fisher's life was in danger. A detachment of the state militia is located at this place, and they have been instructed to hold themselves in readiness for immediate movement. It will be remembered a rumor was started in January that trouble was brewing and Governor Wiley became very much frightened and ordered Adjutant General Curtis to the front, but found no uneasiness, and he now thinks it is the same kind of trouble. In this he is mistaken, and there are grave fears that the posse will reach the agency until late as it is located about twenty miles off the railway.

A Father Sacrifices His Boy as a Shield.
CHENEY, Wyo., April 14.—[Special telegram to THE HERALD.]—In a shooting encounter in Big Horn Basin Sunday a four-year-old boy was used as a shield by his father. The child was killed and the parent received a fatal wound. George McDermott, a ranchman, used his boy, Tim Madden, shot him. McDermott whipped his wife and she took refuge at Madden's. McDermott sent word that unless the woman came home at once he would kill off the population at the shelter. He came over at once carrying the boy and his six shooter in his hand. Tim Madden came out with a rifle. They all believed McDermott was crazy, and it was decided that Tim should kill him. Madden raised the gun and McDermott raised the boy. The shot was intended for McDermott's head. It struck the child in the forehead and glanced to his father's face. In a half day the little one died and the father will likely follow.

The McCarthys Kill a Chief.
PARIS, Idaho, April 14.—[Special telegram to THE HERALD.]—The preliminary examination of Dr. E. E. Rivers, who shot and killed S. B. McCarthy last week, came up before Probate Judge G. C. Patten this afternoon. J. H. Hawley, attorney for the defense, filed affidavits that the judge was biased and prejudiced, and asked for a change of venue, as the judge has expressed the opinion that it was a cold blooded murder. The prosecution objected, but Hawley made an able argument in support of his motion and the court took the matter under advisement until 6 o'clock this evening and granted a change of venue to Montpelier, to be tried before Judge Foley to-morrow, at 9 a. m.

A. M. Musser, jr., was arrested here this afternoon on a charge of murder. The prosecution claims that Musser went into McCarthy's hotel with Rivers and it was a conspiracy on Musser's part. When Sheriff Jones arrested Musser he stated he was not afraid of the outcome of his case. Never in the history of this county was the court house so full. Standing room was at a premium. Considerable comment was made in regard to Musser's arrest. Both the prisoners, Rivers and Musser, will be taken over to Montpelier by Sheriff Jones and will be well guarded.

The South Gives Him an Enthusiastic Reception.

SHAKING THE PEOPLE'S HANDS

The President Makes Many Addresses, Which are Everywhere Heartily Cheered—The Supremacy of the Law.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 14.—The town of Radford, Virginia, acknowledged the President's visit this morning in a cordial way. Many of the inhabitants were assembled at the station and cheered the President heartily. He shook with all within reach and one excited individual started what he called a "Yankee shout," which was joined by every one. All of the villages along the route were a holiday appearance. A vast crowd was massed at Bristol, and a committee escorted the President to a high bluff, where he was introduced to the people by Judge Wood. The President made an address, referring to his pleasure and instruction during his trip through a portion of Virginia. He referred to the developing industries and lauded the addition of mechanics to agriculture. "What hinders us," said he, "is not in the market of our great population, from successful competition in the markets of the world? This hinders our people, possessing every element of material wealth and endowed with inventive genius and energy unsurpassed from again having upon the seas a horde of marauding pirates. The Striking Weavers Continue Rioting.

LONDON, April 14.—The riotous conduct of yesterday of the striking weavers at Bradford, Yorkshire, continued. A large concourse of people has gathered, going about the town hall square, and there is great excitement in town. The police as yet have refrained from interference with the strikers, but the troops in the barracks are on high alert. Several arrests have been made. Proprietors of the mills say the weavers are perfectly willing to return to work but are terrorized by their leaders and labor agitators.

Rioting was renewed at Bradford this evening. The mob numbered at least 20,000 persons. The street lamps were extinguished by rioting. The military, police and special constables charged and dispersed the mob. Many persons were injured. Rioters again gathered in Sunbridge street at 5 o'clock to-night. The police attempted to dislodge the men, but their efforts proved futile. Finally the police made a flank movement and by this means succeeded in making the rioters back retreat but not without a fierce struggle, during which all the windows of the buildings on Sunbridge street were smashed by a shower of missiles with which the strikers sought to repulse the police.

WESTERN CONGRESS

A Letter from the President Discussing Silver.

SOUND VIEWS ON GOVERNMENT

By Charles Francis Adams Who Says the Country is Suffering Chiefly from Too Much Governmental Interference.

KANSAS CITY, April 14.—The first Western States Commercial congress convened at noon to-day with delegates present from the highest states and territories. California, Washington, Idaho, Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming, Montana, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia, Texas and Oklahoma. The convention was called to order by State Senator Kelly, of Kansas. He introduced Rev. Dr. Hayes, of this city, who offered prayer. The convention then proceeded to temporary organization. Senator Kelly was chosen temporary chairman. In a long speech of acceptance he explained the object of the congress and the consideration of various questions of peculiar interest to the west and south. Kelly laid all the blame of the agricultural depression upon a too small circulating medium. As a relief he suggested the free coinage of silver, the raising of silver money to the standard gold. Mr. Adams, of Illinois, was elected temporary secretary. The chairman then presented Governor Francis, who delivered the address of the day. He said the congress marked an era in agricultural, commercial and financial history. In the early history of the country such discussion and deliberation as now exists resulted in revolution. The people of the west were crying for relief, but the manner of relief was not to be arrived at by this deliberative congress. Different causes were assigned for the depression of western interests. Heretofore federal legislation had been in the line of protection of the west. The west wanted free trade with Mexico and Canada, and South America, and with all the countries of the world. The west wanted the Mississippi connected with the great lakes, it wanted improved water ways; it wanted a fuller volume of currency. These were things that would relieve the distressing condition of affairs and they were things that the west must act together upon.

After telling the monarch that his title to much of the land on the Congo is visionary, that his officers are deficient in moral training, that the natives are being sold and bartered among the whites, and that the government which is established in the Congo country is incapable of properly governing the natives, Colonel Williams says the agents of your majesty's government have misrepresented the Congo country and Congo railroads. He says that the Congo country is a vast territory, which has been grossly misrepresented by the character of the country. Instead of being fertile and productive, it is sterile and unproductive. BLAINE'S CANDIDACY

He is to Resign as Secretary of State

And Make An Itinerary Through the South and West, Following in Harrison's Footsteps

Practically—So Some Rumor Says.

[Special to THE HERALD—Examiner Dispatch.]
WASHINGTON, April 14.—A well-defined plan having for its object the candidacy of Secretary Blaine in 1892, has been formulated by some of the plumed knights of enthusiastic admirers in the west. It embraces the retirement of Blaine from his position as secretary of state next fall, or at any period within a few months, when it is safe to assume the Italian affair will have been satisfactorily closed. It is the purpose to have his retirement from office take place after the political effect of the President's tour in the south and west has worn off in those sections. Then Mr. Blaine's friends desire to take him over to the same route, though more extensive one. The contemplated tour will comprise 10,000 miles of travel, as against the 6,000 miles embraced in Harrison's tour. The object is to bring the western farmers as much as possible in personal contact with the man who has been endeavoring to get a foreign market for their "wheat of gold." Representative Binger Hermann, of Oregon, was the first to give a hint as to what was intended, but the idea has spread so among Blaine's friends that it is difficult to claim in vain terms that he is not of them in his precise attitude in the matter.

Evictions in the Coke Region.

The evictions were carried out at Summit and Adelaide, and the scenes on the roads to-day are likely to be repeated all over the region. The strike operators assert the strikers' ranks are breaking at many points. Eviction is a powerful lever and the rank and file of the strikers are becoming disaffected with their leaders. A great strike is believed to be in the air. The evictions are believed to be a prelude to a general strike. The strikers are believed to be a prelude to a general strike.
